Second-quarter report. Blessings from Father God to all of the readers and hearers of Scripture and let it edify you and bring the Kingdom of Christ to bear in your life. The eBlessings website has continued to move forward and grow in spite of the adversity to which my self and others have been subjected. The number of visitors and hits on the site has continued in its steady growth. Thank you Father God for that!

I had planned by this time, to have made design changes and move the site and to a Joomla web format or a Word Press platform. That will be forthcoming in the spring of 2010 or shortly before.

Sales of our products and books have been sluggish, and our prayer is that more Americans and African Americans will support us since many of the ministries, which we represent our poor people, who we are leveraged to help-- people of African descent or people of color. Check it out! Hebrews, help Hebrews. White Americans, help whites. Let us black folk, help one another especially since this eBlessings effort, is primarily directed towards Christian people of color. Not supporting eBlessings to hurt Anthony, or because I choose to exercise my first amendment rights, only hurts the people in eBlessings who Anthony has been divinely designed to help--in essence, it hurts Jesus--now you wouldn't want to do that with you!

Remember, eBlessings have arts and crafts from Rwanda, Kenya, Ivory Coast, Liberia, the Democratic Republic of Congo, and Ethiopia. These arts and crafts are purchased to help the villagers and artisans who make these products. It also keeps Africa, the African continent in the sight and vision of those who see these products.

eBlessings has extended her reach into Pakistan. Reverend Ameir Masih (Masih means Christian) and this name makes a statement and positions the one who uses it in the bull's-eye of a potential attack by Muslims. Brother Ameir is our lead contact in Pakistan. The larger ministry is that of Professor Dr. Khurram Shahzad. Reverend Ravi Daniel has a smaller, but growing ministry. Their team often supplies security teams for the larger venues. But all three of these ministries, minister all types of community outreach. Reverend Ameir's team is doing translation of eBlessings' devotionals and they are the primary evangelism tool by their team. Brother Ameir has duplicated thousands of eBlessings devotionals for distribution at the Pakistani Christian communities. I also do a Bible study with Reverend Ameir's team. Reverend Ameir also speaks to Muslims, in his attempts to convert them to Christianity.

It is very important that you as an eBlessings' friend or partner click and purchase from our corporate partners. This will go a long way to help eBlessings financially and the ministries that you see on our website. We have to change our purchasing habits to that of purchasing from the eBlessings' website to help our efforts. eBlessings partners with Link Share, a company which represents for us in to us, approximately 30 plus different businesses. If you do not click or purchase their products, they will withdraw their participation with us. When you click their ads and purchase their products money goes to eBlessings and can ultimately, positively effect ministries and individuals represented on our site.

We also collaborate with Google, and by participating in their advertising clients' efforts, everyone on the eBlessings' site has the potential to benefit. We also collaborate with Amazon. Purchasing Amazon products or eBlessings' products listed on Amazon helps us financially as well. We collaborate with Pow Web, who is our website host. We are an affiliate with them, as we are an affiliate with Amazon and Google. These corporate partnerships represent revenue streams, which should, (but not presently) effectively allow me, and all the other ministries and all the future ministries have no lack of finances. Therefore, you do not always have to give a donation to help us--but donations are a critical part of our survival. So please donate today! There is a lot more to tell, but I will wait.
